

ONE NIGHT ONLY

The Music Club of London presents an evening concert of musical entertainment
'LOVE IN THE LIFE OF SHAKESPEARE'

A talk by Robert Mansell
with music by professional opera singers and instrumentalists

Adam Marsden, baritone, will sing William Shakespeare,
Janet Fischer, soprano, will sing his wife Anne and his lover Emilia,
Chris Turner, tenor, will sing Christopher Marlowe and Lord Southampton,
Mae Heydorn, mezzo-soprano, will sing Queen Elizabeth,
Julian Debreuil, bass-baritone, will sing Thomas Kyd and Richard Burbage

They will be accompanied by

Petar Dimov (piano), Leon Keuffer (violin),
Alison Holford (cello), and Simon Tong (trumpet)

Most of Shakespeare's life is rather obscure and shrouded in mystery. This evening will portray Shakespeare the man through his rise to stardom, his fall from grace, and his ultimate achievement of immortality with the publication of his collected works.

Mansell will illustrate the talk with projections and introduce songs from his musical play about the subject. The music is warm, romantic and wide-ranging; including Broadway-style ballads, comic songs, and semi-operatic arias and choruses.

St. Gabriel's Church Pimlico, Warwick Square, London SW1V 2AD
7.30 PM on Thursday 16th June 2016
